“OWN YOUR OWN HOME”

IN PRESENTING THIS BOOK which we have chosen to call Diamond Homes, we have attempted to prepare as a guide to the prospective home owner and his contractor, a series of homes designed definitely for the New England market. The houses illustrated in the following pages, although inspired by original colonial architecture, have been altered somewhat in order to include all the modern conveniences and necessities now in demand in homes.

To those seeking to build a small home we hope that this book will prove of great value. Every house illustrated in this book has been designed with the idea of producing an efficient and compactly arranged unit at a minimum cost.

Working drawings for all of these houses may be secured from us together with a complete specification. If the suggestions presented herewith do not meet with your requirements, we will be glad to incorporate your ideas in the working drawings.

Believing that the average American has an acute desire to own his own home, and realizing that present day financing methods makes it possible for the average man to realize this desire, we of The Diamond Match Company, offer you in addition to this plan book, the benefit of a complete service.

Years of experience in the lumber and building material business makes it possible for us to guide you in every step of the planning and constructing of the home which you desire. From the picking of a site, through the various steps of planning and of choosing materials, to the completed home, we pledge a service to both the home owner and the contractor that will produce a completed house that can truly be called a home.

To those desiring to own homes, and to those engaged in the construction of homes, this book is dedicated.

Our Complete Planning Service . . .

The basic thought behind our planning service is to help you transfer your ideas of a home into the actual completed structure. To most of us who build but once, it is most essential that we receive full value for our building dollar, therefore, every step taken in determining what we should build, and where and how we should build it, should be guarded carefully.

Neighborhood

From a standpoint of safe investment the neighborhood in which to build should be carefully selected, paying particular attention to school and transportation facilities, to zoning laws, and other important features that determine the future value of a locality.

The Site

The particular lot upon which you build should be judged carefully in order to avoid future costs of grading, drainage, etc.

COMPLETE PLANNING SERVICE

The Architecture

Having chosen your neighborhood and your site carefully, you should next determine that the home you intend to build is of such architecture that it not only pleases your individual taste, but that it will endure the test of time.

It should be definitely determined that the house you have chosen meets the needs of your family from a standpoint of size and arrangement of rooms.

Materials

The next step in perfecting your home should be the determining of the materials to be used and the general specifications to be followed in the construction of your home. Quality materials in the long run are cheaper than the shoddy ones, and great care should be taken to determine that only materials of proven value are incorporated in the building.

Construction

The next important step is to secure a reliable and efficient general contractor to assemble the results of all your planning into the completed house. Good planning, good architecture, good materials, demand good workmanship.

Financing

Since most of us require financing in order to make it possible to own our own home, it is quite necessary that the prospect be fully informed as to the source of money available and to the type of loan available. There exists today, a great fund of so-called long time mortgage money made available through the Federal Housing Administration by its insured mortgage plan, and through building and loan institutions, banks, and other financial institutions. The reliability of your loaning institution is most important.

Years of experience, influenced by a strong desire to promote the welfare of the prospective home owner, makes it possible for us to intelligently advise and guide him in the important steps listed above. To the prospective home owner and his contractor, we offer our services, in the hopes that through our joint efforts, you too, may own your own.

How to be Sure Your Home Is Protected

Because "Home" is the place you love the best, you want to give it the best protection. Yet the roof, where protection is most needed is often neglected. After a few years of constant battle with the force of driving rain or sleet, the fierce heat of the sun and the fury of the wind, the unprotected roof begins to leak. Here's how it happens:

Usually the first leaks trickle down between the walls. After several storms, water marks appear on the plaster. Redecorating inside the house then begins to cost more than roof repairs. Thus, unless careful attention is given to the roof at the start, your roof, in a short time, will cost about twice as much as originally planned.

A ROOF WORTHY OF YOUR HOME

Your new home deserves the very best of everything that you can afford. And the best in roofing means Flintkote. Backed by 37 years' leadership in the roofing field, Flintkote Asphalt and Asbestos products are the result of tireless research and experiment. Special processes of manufacture, developed only by Flintkote, insure protection and beauty years beyond ordinary expectation. Flintkote shingles are fire-safe and give added insulation to your home.

YOUR HOME • REMADE • Are you remodeling your home? Then your first thought will naturally be for the roof. It is really surprising what the "right" roof can do to an old house. It looks completely made over...renewed...modernized. Even the walls are given new life and character. The whole premises take on a freshly trimmed appearance. Suddenly... you find yourself already in a new home that the new roof has made for you.

It used to be considered necessary to strip off the old shingles before applying the new. These new shingles are made to lay right over the old ones. There's no danger from sudden storm, nor any of the usual debris to ruin your shrubs or lawns.

Ask to See These Favorites

THIKBUT STRIP SHINGLES

The diagram below shows how Thikbut Shingles are built with double protection at the butt where extra strength really counts. It shows why these shingles stay waterproof and weathertight for years... why they cast the deeper shadow lines that increase the beauty of your home.

SQUARE BUTT STRIP SHINGLES

Ideally suited for re-roofing, Square Butt Strips may be applied right over the old shingles... saving the old roof for double insulation... double protection against the heat of summer and the chill of winter. After re-roofing with Flintkote Square Butt Shingles, home owners report substantial savings in heating costs.

*For large roofs or small... three sizes to choose from

How often do you say this to your guests? And yet, with all good intentions, it is usually said without particular thought. Not only your guests, but you, too, suffer from the attacks of the seasons. How can you escape it?

INSULATE NOW

Your new home can be comfortable all year round, if insulated with Flintkote Mineral Wool. It cannot rot, rust or corrode. It is vermin proof. Find out now how you can avoid the heat of the coming summer.

YOU CAN BE COOLER IN SUMMER

ILLUSTRATION SHOWS
BLACK KNOB BODY

Changeable Knob Body

► The "PATRICIAN" knob construction, as illustrated to the right, permits the changing of the colored plastic knob body whenever desired, thus making possible an entire change in the decorative scheme of a home.

Knob Construction

► Note that the forged bronze top is held by positioning lugs in fixed relation to the plastic body. The solid bronze shank, fitting a non-circular opening in the knob body and fastened firmly to the knob top by the assembly screw, prevents any turning of the body on the shank. This is a common fault of the old fashioned glass knob.

The "PATRICIAN" Idea

► LOCKWOOD, for fifty-five years makers of fine hardware, has achieved in "PATRICIAN" the first practical application of color to hardware. Hardware now lends itself not only to the architectural treatment of the home but to its decorative scheme as well. Soft pastel shades for the bath and kitchen. Chinese red and mahogany for an occasional room, and ivory or black for general use throughout the house. All of lifetime permanence and at no greater cost than conventional hardware.

► A combination of metal and plastic material, "PATRICIAN" has a jewel-like appearance that lends itself perfectly to the present-day colorful home decoration.

► One of America's distinguished architects has called "PATRICIAN" "the finest hardware ever created for the home." It is truly "The Hardware of Tomorrow."
